

A Proud History

The minute you cross the historic stone bridge at the entrance to Midway College, you know you're in a very special place. We have much to celebrate, with over 150 years of academic excellence and a parallel heritage as the only women's college in the Commonwealth of Kentucky. A value-centered institution from its inception in 1847, Midway College has a distinguished history of responsiveness to community and societal needs.

Midway at a Glance

Founded in 1847 by a group headed by Dr. Lewis Letig Pinkerton, a physician and pastor of Midway Christian Church, Midway in an independent, liberal arts institution.

Located on a 105 acre working farm in Midway, Kentucky, in the heart of the historic Bluegrass horse region, Midway is 15 minutes from Lexington and an hour away from Cincinnati and Louisville.

Associated with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), Midway College is an active participant in the Division of Higher Education of the Christian Church.

Student Body includes 900 students. Approximately 50 percent are enrolled in traditional day programs and 50 percent are enrolled in accelerated evening programs for working men and women through the School for Career Development.

Student Faculty Ratio is 13:1. There are 35 full-time faculty members.

Accredited by the Commission on Colleges of the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools to award associate and baccalaureate degrees. Individual programs are accredited by nationally recognized organizations.

Academics

At the heart of the Midway College mission is a commitment to the development of leadership potential through a carefully articulated curriculum that fosters intellectual, emotional, physical and spiritual growth.

Midway College has a long-standing reputation for academic excellence in our traditional disciplines, including nursing, equine, business and teacher education.

To prepare students for worldwide societal and technological changes, we have upgraded our traditional programs and added the mathematics, science and technology programs students will need to succeed and make valuable contributions to society. These programs will be housed in our new Anne Hart Raymond Center for Mathematics, Science and Technology.

Scholarships and Financial Aid

At Midway College, an affordable private education is made possible by responsible use of endowment income, substantial merit, academic and athletic scholarships and generous gifts and grants to the operating funds of the college from churches, alumnae and friends. Students find that when one considers the availability of financial aid through numerous State and Federal government and institutional programs, a quality education at an independent college is well within their means.

Religious Opportunities

While Midway College is affiliated with the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), it is fully interdenominational in scope and policy. Participation in all religious services and activities is voluntary.

Area churches are active and welcome Midway student participation. Each student is encouraged to seek a fulfilling relationship in the church of their choice.

Athletic Programs

Midway College has a commitment to women's sports. An active intramural program is available to all students. On the intercollegiate level, athletic teams are fielded in basketball, softball, soccer, tennis and hunt and stock seat equitation.

Midway College is a member of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) and participates in the Kentucky Intercollegiate Athletic Conference (KIAC), the Kentucky Women's Intercollegiate Conference (KWIC) and the Intercollegiate Horse Show Association (IHSA).

We believe that the physical vigor, group spirit and self awareness derived from participation in sports activities is essential to personal well-being.

Activities and Organizations

At Midway College, students have numerous opportunities to become involved in social, recreational, educational and cultural activities. Chorale concerts, student productions and other fine arts programs add a cultural dimension to campus life. Student activities and programs provide students with the opportunity to supplement academic learning, sharpen leadership skills and actively participate in the process of planning and organizing programs and events.
